Dr. Eric D. Edwards is the author of his highly acclaimed book "The Day I Got My Strength Back." His latest book "The Law of We Trickles Down To Me" highlights all the helping professionals that inherently honors God. "Nick Named "All Purpose" by former Navy shipmates for his many roles on board the USS Glover, this ordained pastor is still shaped by the Apostle Paul's example of being all things to all people and using all Godly means to save some. He is retired from Charlotte Mecklenburg School district as a Section 504 Disability Coordinator. He is a professor at FMI seminary and an independent consultant within the human service market. He is highly skilled in strategic planning, creativity, organization management, public programming, and the humanities. Dr. Edwards is the host of the video Podcast "Kingdom Voices" and serves as founder and senior Pastor of Kingdom Covenant Christian Church. Over the past 35 years, Dr. Edwards has served as director and coordinator to many organizations and programs. He holds (2) two master's degrees in areas of Counseling and is a gifted lecturer and preacher who provide outreach, case management, training, and support services for individuals with disabilities and other barriers. He is an avid reader and loves spending time with his sons Levi and Eden. Dr. Edwards contributes much of his accomplishments and success to a wise mother, and a deceased grandmother, who told him about a man named Jesus. Overall, he is quick to point out that without God none of this would be possible.
